

“Generating ideas from employees should be one of the top priorities of any business because the very next idea you get may save you $10,000 or make you $100,000.”

Jim Collison, HR Magazine

Tap into the collective knowledge of your employees and realize new revenue opportunities and cut costs. With WIN Management’s web-based Suggestion and Incentive Program your employees can submit ideas, track the progress of their idea and get immediate rewards. The result? Employees start to think more like managers, looking beyond the scope of their own jobs. And your company can unlock the hidden potential of every employee and positively impact your company’s bottom line.

WIN’s Suggestion and Incentive Program can be implemented in days, not weeks and includes a branded interface, simple management console and employee training tools so employees can start submitting ideas immediately. The best ideas can be posted for everyone to see. Plus, with WIN’s built-in incentive module, employees can receive points for suggestions and easily redeem points for rewards.

“Our employees know that their opinion counts. It’s amazing the value we have uncovered since we set up WIN’s program. I recommend it to any company.”
